RiverHeath is a mixed-use building complex in Appleton rising along the eastern bank of the Fox River, under the College Avenue bridge. To date, it has attracted residential tenants for its condo townhouses by Banta Bowl.

Now it has signed its first commercial tenants, Factotum USA and Regency Wealth Management, to take ground floor space in its new Evergreen apartment building opening in June. That building is on the other side of the bridge, below Telulah Park.

Factotum is an Appleton-based firm that designs and builds furniture from reclaimed wood and metal, restores vintage motorcycles and is designing a T-shirt line. To date, it has only had a factory and no formal showroom. This new showroom in RiverHeath will showcase its tables, chairs, coffee tables, custom mirrors, Regency Wealth Management is a locally owned and operated financial services firm. Managing partner John Kosmer said he liked RiverHeath creator Mark Geall's vision for the complex and looked forward to having an office with access to the river and walking trails.

RiverHeath has additional commercial spaces available, including one earmarked for a future coffee shop.

The building will have a public open house starting at 3 p.m. on June 25. Enter on the Banta Court, the road leading to the Banta Bowl. More information: www.riverheath.com.
